Reduction of Evacuation Alert In Faulder Area Due to Partial Containment of Finlay Creek Fire

There has been a partial reduction of properties within an advisory Evacuation Alert issued by the RDOS in the Faulder area due to the Finlay Creek Wildfire. A complete list of properties that remain under advisory Evacuation Alert have been listed below. The total number of properties in the Faulder area remaining under advisory Evacuation Alert is 76.

A mandatory Evacuation Order for 55 properties the Meadow Valley area remains in place. All remaining Orders and Alerts will be assessed over the weekend as the Finlay Creek Wildfire is still an immediate threat to homes in the area.

The BC Wildfire Service has partially contained the Finlay Creek Wildfire using man made fire breaks and controlled burns. The controlled burns remove fuel for the fire which limits the ability for the fire to expand. Controlled burns have increased the total hectares burnt but decreased the threat to local homes. For more information about the Finlay Creek wildfire, visit the BC Wildfire Service website at www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/safety/wildfire-status.

For residents of properties under Evacuation Order in the Meadow Valley area, the Emergency Reception Centre is located at the Summerland Arena and Curling Club at 8820 Jubilee Rd. East. The Reception Centre is scheduled to be open September 9th and 10th (this weekend) from 8am to Noon each day. If evacuees require immediate assistance call the RDOS Reception Centre at 250-462-0823. For after-hours emergencies, please call the Provincial Emergency Program at 1-800-663-3456.

The District of Summerland is also removing their advisory Evacuation Alert for properties in the Garnet Valley area of Summerland. Visit www.summerland.ca for details.
